Professional Portfolio

Entrepreneur * Speaker * Community Advocate * Generational Voice.

“ As a result of Bedford’s dedication to changing urban landscapes, not only is community building in Starlett’s family legacy, it’s also in her DNA. ”

BUILDING ON HER FAMILY'S DEVELOPMENT LEGACY.

Recently nominated by the Los Angeles Business Journal as a “2021 Woman to Watch,” Starlett Quarles is a passionate, longtime advocate for the progress of Black Los Angeles and urban communities across the country.

A third generation Angeleno and community builder, Starlett's family has been instrumental in the revitalization of South Los Angeles' housing landscape through the legacy of her grandfather's framing and construction company, EAC Construction; as well as her father's real estate development firm, The Bedford Group of Companies (“Bedford”), one of Los Angeles' leading urban infill development firms.

With a history dating back more than four decades, Bedford has amassed a portfolio of more than 5,000 affordable housing and market rate units combined- totaling more than $1 billion in total development costs.

As a result of Bedford's dedication to changing urban landscapes, not only is community building in Starlett's family legacy, it's also in her DNA.

Professionally, Starlett's experience ranges from being Program Director for a nonprofit Community Development Corporation, to Marketing Director for The Bedford Group, where she was responsible for managing the department's daily marketing and communications operations.

As such, she oversaw the branding, marketing, advertisement, media, public relations, and community outreach strategies for the company, their townhome and condominium communities, as well as their affordable multifamily and senior housing projects.

Ladies and Gentlemen, meet Ms. Starlett Quarles, Entrepreneur, Speaker, Community Advocate, and “Generational Voice.”

Entrepreneur & Branding Expert.

Since 2005, Starlett has been President of Urban X Marketing, a multi award-winning niche marketing firm that provides an array of urban marketing, branding, communications, and event production services to small businesses, entrepreneurs, and nonprofit organizations.

As a brand conscious professional, Starlett thoroughly understands that branding has always been a vital part of any business, and that a brand is more than just a company's logo, website, product(s), or even its service(s), but instead the firm's identity, personality, and ability to be relatable and agile in today's rapidly changing and diverse marketplace.

Recognizing that a strong brand needs to remain true to its core principles, while always remaining open to new ideas, Starlett often consults her clients on brand evolution strategies that are sustainable, authentic, and helps to differentiate them from their competitors.

Although experienced across all traditional marketing channels, Starlett specializes in branding, inbound marketing, and a combination of social media, content creation, and event production to help her clients effectively utilize new media strategies to gain visibility, generate inbound leads, and emotionally connect to their target markets, audiences, and/or consumers.

Starlett is a passionate advocate for social equity and understands that the viability and sustainability of today's businesses are growing more dependent on their ability to embrace diversity in their corporate culture and brand messaging. As a result, she often emphasizes cultural sensitivity and inclusion in her marketing campaigns and community outreach efforts.

In addition to her marketing firm, Starlett is also continuing her legacy of family-owned businesses by recently opening a video production and recording studio for small businesses and content creators with her brother, Quenton, called Dialogue Studio.

Located in Westchester, California, Dialogue Studio's mission is "to be a premier digital media place for building brands, telling compelling stories, crafting meaningful messages, and creating emotional connections."

The firm's primary goal is to help businesses, entrepreneurs, and independent content creators build stronger brands by producing quality content for online marketing, branding, promotions, and monetization."

A Generational Voice.

A purpose-driven professional with an entrepreneurial spirit and a passion for empowering the next generation of community leaders, Starlett enjoys sharing knowledge, inspiring success, and motivating multi-generational urban audiences through the numerous professional mixers, workshops, fundraisers, and community events that she creates, produces, and often hosts.

Of note, some of her past events have included:

- “Step Up & Build: A Dialogue with the Next Generation of Urban Developers”
- “Fall Into Your Beauty: A Complete Beauty Experience for Today’s Women of Color”
- “Keeping It Real: Foster Male Empowerment Summit”
- “A Dialogue with Black LA” -a free civic engagement event on the importance of community and political accountability, where she conducted one-on-one interviews with Former L.A. Mayoral Candidates Eric Garcetti and Wendy Greuel.

An experienced public speaker, moderator, columnist, spokesperson, and podcast host, Starlett was born to have a national presence and a generational voice.

Known for her smart, humorous, and engaging interview style, Starlett has a personality that appeals to an intergenerational urban audience of politically engaged Baby Boomers, entrepreneurial Gen Xers, and social media-savvy Millennials.

A passionate Gen X advocate and inspirational leader, Starlett's guiding purpose is to create educational access and networking platforms for her peers to begin expanding their professional resources, and engaging in socio-cultural relevant conversations around their thoughts, concerns, challenges, opportunities, and generational responsibilities.

To date, Starlett has hosted more than 100 shows on her podcast, "A Dialogue with Starlett Quarles," where she has addressed such topics as: legacy building, civic engagement, wealth creation, community economic development, criminal justice, mental health, youth education, cultural competency, race relations, entrepreneurship, careers in real estate, and interpersonal relationships.

In addition, Starlett is also a published columnist, radio show host, and dynamic speaker. Since 2018 she has written a monthly Gen X column for The Wave Newspaper entitled, "The Gen X Report;" has been a regular guest host for 102.3 KJLH's "Front Page Talk Show"; and was a past TEDX Crenshaw speaker where her TedX Talk was entitled: "Gentrification & the Next Generation" which currently has over 23,000 views on YouTube.

Philanthropist & Educator.

In line with her desire to create positive change for her generation and community, Starlett has also volunteered her time on several nonprofit and professional boards. In 2018, she joined the Grand Park Foundation, where she currently sits as the organization's Board President.

And her first act as president? To acknowledge and support her community of Gen X peers who are now being challenged with taking care of their aging Baby Boomer parents.

The result? In 2019, she turned LA County's Grand Park into Downtown LA's first outdoor roller-skating rink when she spearheaded and launched the foundation's first annual 3-day fundraiser, "All Skate for Alzheimer's: Caring for the Caregiver."

In addition to her work with the Grand Park Foundation, Starlett was also a former State Commissioner and Board President for The Baldwin Hills Conservancy.

As a well-respected community development advocate, she has also served in leadership roles on the following executive boards:

- The former Vice Chair of the Los Angeles African American Women's Political Action Committee \(LAAAWPAC\)
- A former Executive Committee Member of the Urban Land Institute, Los Angeles \(ULI-LA\)
- The former Program Director for ULI-LA's "UrbanPlan High School Program;" and
- A former Advisory Board Member for USC's "Ross Minority Program in Real Estate."

Worthy of mention, Starlett was also the Founding L.A. Board Chair for the Real Estate Associate Program, Los Angeles \(REAP-LA\), a national executive training program for minority professionals interested in gaining access to the world of Commercial Real Estate.

In addition to her philanthropic efforts, Starlett is also committed to the educational advancement of today's urban youth, professionals, entrepreneurs, and executives.

She has over ten years of professional teaching experience and has taught at the high school, community college, university, and executive business levels. Courses and professional workshops that she has instructed include topics on: marketing, branding, social media, entrepreneurship, career development, legacy-building, and community economic development.

Academically Accomplished.

As an educational precursor to her success as a entrepreneur, marketing expert, community advocate, and “Generational Voice,” Starlett obtained a bachelor’s degree in Sociology, with an emphasis on Ethnic and Racial Stratification from the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA).

She also earned a master’s degree in Industrial/Organizational Psychology from the California School of Professional Psychology (CSPP), which placed emphasis on improving the organizational effectiveness of culturally-diverse work environments.

As a result, Starlett has a solid foundation in businesses to step forward and be more proactive on behalf of diversity. She helps take control of their marketing and messaging; and effectively executes communication strategies that showcase and celebrates inclusion as one of their core business drivers.

A people-oriented idealist, Starlett also believes that teamwork and friendly cooperation are the two of the best ways businesses and people can achieve a common goal.

Therefore, she is personally committed to the progress of any team that she leads and has a unique talent for helping people settle differences and work together in an atmosphere of mutual respect and productivity.
